Hanna is an unwavering feminist, artist, musician and pivotal figure of the “Riot Grrrl” movement that took place within the underground music scene that flourished alongside ‘Grunge’ in the ’90s. She is best known for her groundbreaking performances as a member of the 90’s punk band, Bikini Kill, and her more recent multimedia group, Le Tigre. She is the subject of the new documentary The Punk Singer and is currently giving lectures and performing with her new band The Julie Ruin.

Brought to you by the Women’s History Month Committee 2014 and the PRIDE Club.
Celebrating Women of Character, Courage, and Commitment