Signature Assignment criteria

1. At minimum, students must write at least one historical analysis essay (3-4 pages) or give one class presentation (5-10 minutes) requiring the same skills in each GenEd History course
2. Students must be asked to incorporate a detailed examination of at least one primary source and at least one secondary (preferably scholarly rather than textbook or website) source in that analysis
3. The student must provide historical context for the sources within the larger narrative of the event or historical debate and recognize the perspective and bias of the sources used.
4. The student must demonstrate the ability to construct a thesis and defend it using analysis of these sources
5. The speaking/writing must be clear and well organized

(Assesses course SLOs 1 and 2, and assesses EL1, 2, and 8)

Course Content:

HIS101 is broad survey of the history western civilization from antiquity to the late middle ages. It will provide foundational knowledge of the ancient Near East, Greece, Rome, emergence of medieval states and societies, and culminating in the religious crisis of the Reformation. Students will acquire a solid understanding of historical facts and interpretation while gaining a sense of the broad scope of history as a discipline. This class will help students develop a thorough empirical grasp along with the kind of analytical skills that come with a genuine historical sensibility.

Course Texts and/or Other Study Materials:

Textbooks change periodically and are assigned as either recommended or required at the discretion of the professor. Whenever possible the most appropriate but cost efficient texts will be used.

Research, Writing, and/or Examination Requirement(s):

The ability to write a cogent, well organized, and evidence-based narrative and to construct and defend a thesis based on historical evidence and scholarly interpretation are essential skills of the historian. Therefore, the course will require students to read different kinds of source material and to write historical narratives of the past and analysis of these sources. Written exams and additional assignments including essays and analysis papers will be requirements for the course.

Grading Policy:

All written and oral assignments will be graded according to rubrics or instructions provided in advance to students. Written assignments and exams will represent up to 75% of the final grade and participation in discussions, forums, class presentations, and required class events will represent up to 25% of the final grade.

Both written and oral assignments will be evaluated for use of historical evidence, argument, and clarity of written or verbal expression and organization. Feedback from instructors will be timely and provide substantive comments to support student learning and improvement on subsequent assignments. Late work will be accepted but will lose a percentage of points up to 25% each day as indicated in the specific instructor's course syllabus.

Attendance Policy:

BCC Attendance Policy:

All students are expected to attend every scheduled meeting of each course in which they are registered. Attendance and lateness policies and sanctions are to be determined by the instructor for each section of each course. These will be established in writing on the individual course outline. Attendance will be kept by the instructor for administrative and counseling purposes.
