Submit Your Best Paper to the Honors Conference by Friday, March 8, 2019

The Honors Student Conference is a forum for our college students to present their best academic work in a professional conference setting. The conference will have two sessions with multiple concurrent panels in a variety of disciplines, followed by lunch with a keynote speaker. Conference participation is an excellent opportunity for students to present work completed as part of their community college coursework, and is recognized as a significant achievement by four-year colleges. Participating students may be invited to have their papers published in the Bergen Student Journal.

You are invited to submit a paper in the following disciplines and subject areas:
