The International Student Center will process the Change of Status I-20 and call you or send e-mail to inform you that the packet is ready for pick-up. You are responsible for mailing your application to the Service Center for processing.

We recommend sending your application with certified, return receipt mail service. This will allow you to track the package. The mailing address for the change for status applications changes often. Contact the ISC for the most current address or check the instructions found at www.uscis.gov for the Form I-539. It is critical that you notify the ISC of any information that you receive from immigration pertaining to your change of status request. You must notify the ISC of any address/phone # changes. It is your responsibility to maintain your status. The ISC is not responsible for F-1 change of status denials.

What you need to know:

- When a person changes status to F-1, they intend to pursue a degree or certificate in the United States (US) as a full-time student. In general, non-immigrants maintaining legal status can apply for the change of status to F-1, but there are some exceptions and specific rules to remember.
 - BCC is only authorized to issue a Form I-20 for the Fall (September) and Spring (January) semesters (not summer or winter). Keep in mind when planning your status change to F-1.
 - There should never be a gap longer than 30 days between your current status end date and your anticipated F-1 start date. Immigration will deny your change of status if there is a gap longer than 30 days.
 - Be aware that individuals with M-1, WB, WT, K, C, D, N, and S status cannot change to F-1 within the US.
 - J-1 or J-2 visa holders should not attempt a change of status to F-1 in the US if subject to Section 212(e), also known as the “two-year home residency requirement”, unless they have received a recommendation for a waiver for the requirement from the Department of State.
 - The ISC is not required to issue a change of status I-20 to applicants who are currently in violation of their current status. Each change of status applicant will be advised on a case-by-case basis.
 - There are specific eligibility rules associated with B visitors who have already begun a course of study in the US. Please ask the ISC Admissions staff for details.
 - B-1/B-2 visitors who apply for a change of status to F-1 must wait until the F-1 is approved to begin classes at BCC.
 - All F-1 students must attend the F-1 orientation. Please ask the ISC for details.
 - Even if your change of status is approved, you will still need to apply for a VISA page when you travel. Before traveling, contact your International Student Counselor for important travel information.
- Applicants may not apply directly to The School of Health Professions Program. International applicants must first apply to a general program, for example, the Associate of Science, Natural Science and Math, General (AS.NSM.GEN) and then apply for a change of major after one semester of study or after fulfilling all prerequisites.
- Standardized tests (the SAT, TOEFL or IELTS) are not required for admission. However, if you have taken the SAT, you may be exempt from taking certain sections of the placement testing depending on your SAT scores and SAT completion date. For the placement test waiver eligibility requirements information, visit <https://bergen.edu/testing/placement-test-waiver-information/>.
- If a student is not exempt from the language-based placement test, he or she will take the Accuplacer ESL at BCC. This is not an entrance examination; it is used for placement only. If it is necessary for a student to take English as a Second Language courses through the American Language Program (ALP), the test score will determine the appropriate ALP course level. Each level is one semester long.

- Students may be exempt from providing proof of high school graduation if they have completed 30 or more college level credits at a regionally accredited US college/university. Students will have to provide an official transcript from each school attended to the International Student Center.
- International students at BCC are required to show sponsorship of at least $22,000 at the time of application. The $22,000 figure reflects tuition and fees for one year of study and estimated living costs. Tuition and fees for an international student are estimated at $10,000 per year, or approximately $5,000 per semester.
- An applicant that wishes to bring a spouse to the US (on an F-2 visa), an additional $12,000 must be reflected in the financial statements and indicated on the Agreement of Support Form. If the applicant wishes to bring a dependent child, an additional $6,000 must be reflected on the affidavit and bank statements.
- Remember, BCC does NOT provide housing and therefore students must obtain housing on their own.
- International students are NOT eligible for the in-county tuition rate, and are therefore charged out-of-county tuition rates. Financial aid is not available to international students.
- Admitted international students are strongly advised to purchase adequate health insurance coverage.
- Upon being admitted, students will receive a medical history form, which will require a physical examination by a doctor and proof of immunization records in English. This examination can be performed either in the student's home country or in the US upon arrival. Students will have to show proof of immunization against Measles, Mumps and Rubella in English. It is extremely important that students submit necessary health records. The form can be found at: www.bergen.edu/isc/forms.
