

Crimes Against Humanity

The Armenian Genocide

million Armenians, and the role of justice and judgment in the aftermath of such atrocity.

What is the responsibility of the international community when mass murder and genocide occurs? The legacy of the Armenian Genocide lives on more than 100 years after its end. We will examine the events leading up to the systematic murder of over one

In this workshop you will:

- Discover new interdisciplinary teaching strategies that reinforce historical and literacy skills
- Explore topics such as human rights, responsibility, judgment, memory & legacy
- Receive a free copy of Crimes Against Humanity and Civilization: The Genocide of the Armenians and access to online lesson plans and teaching strategies that will help in teaching this important history

After this workshop you will:

- Become part of the Facing History educator network, with access to a rich slate of educator resources, including unit and lesson plans, study guides, and multimedia
- Be able to borrow books and DVDs through our online lending library at no cost

March 28, 2019

9:00 am - 3:30 pm

LOCATION

Bergen Community College
Paramus Campus
400 Paramus Rd.
Paramus, NJ 07652

COST

$25.00

Scholarships are available

RSVP

www.facinghistory.org/newyork/events

In partnership with the Center for Peace, Justice & Reconciliation of Bergen Community College

FACINGHISTORY.ORG
@FacingHistoryNY

Facing History and Ourselves
150 Broadway, Suite 2100
New York, NY 10038
646-998-5840