COURSE DESCRIPTION:

LAN-120 Japanese I is an introduction to the pronunciation, basic comprehension, and communication of Japanese through active class use of simple vocabulary, grammar, and syntax. This course is recommended for students who have had two or less (including no) years of previous high school study of this language. Students with more than two years prior study should consult with the Academic Department Chair of the World Languages and Cultures Discipline for course placement guidance.

3 lectures, 1 lab, 3 credits. General Education Course.

STUDENT LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

Upon completion of the course requirements, students will be able to:

- 1. Sustain and understand simple conversations on familiar topics with the instructor and peers using the present/future and past tenses;
- 2. Write simple sentences, letters, and compositions using correct grammar and syntax, in the present/future and past tenses;
- 3. Read and write all Hiragana, Katakana, and some Kanji (43 in total);
- 4. Convey an informed appreciation of the Japanese culture and social conventions.

In support of the above-mentioned goals, the course will include reading, writing, listening and discussion assignments from the textbook, workbook and outside sources (e.g. Japanese newspaper, web sites on internet). Students are strongly encouraged to take an active part in class discussions and writing assignments.

ASSESSMENT METHODS:

Each of these student learning objectives will be assessed as follows:

- 1. Student' ability to sustain and understand simple conversations on familiar topics with the instructor and peers is measured in various pair work activities. In a simulation of a Japanese restaurant, for example, students will point to the picture simulation of food, ask what it is, ask the price, and order what they would like to eat and drink. They must be able to carry on a small talk stating their likes and dislikes, what they did over the weekend, etc.
- 2. The ability to write simple sentences, letters, and compositions is assessed by the homework assignments. The correct grammar and syntax is assessed by tests in which students are asked to give translation from English to Japanese.
- 3. A student's mastery of Hiragana, Katakana and Kanji is measured by weekly quizzes, and assessed by his or her ability to actually use them in their writing assignments and also in their correct reading (aloud) of the texts in the class.
- 4. An informed appreciation of the Japanese culture and social conventions is assessed by the completion of the projects to investigate any Japanese topic of their choice and share it in the classroom.
