1. Perform different jazz styles (swing, blues, bebop, Latin, and jazz rock) in an ensemble setting at an intermediate level;	Performance evaluations
2. Read/perform rhythms and demonstrate proper articulation and phrasing for the various jazz styles at an intermediate level;	Performance evaluations
3. Demonstrate a solid sense of time displacement and rhythm at an intermediate level;	Performance evaluations
4. Demonstrate competency in basic jazz improvisational skills (scales and harmony) at an intermediate level;	Performance evaluations
5. Exhibit introductory knowledge of jazz history and key jazz musicians;	Performance evaluations
6. Exhibit the professionalism and attitude required to foster a creative and productive learning environment	Performance evaluations
7. demonstrate the ability to create and perform music together with other musicians in rehearsals and concerts.	Performance evaluations

Required Texts:

Ensemble charts will be distributed by the instructor or purchased by the student at a later date.

Recommended Texts:

Aebersold, Jamey. A New approach to Jazz improvisation. Jamey Aebersold Jazz, 1967.

Coker, Jerry. Improvising Jazz. Prentiss Hall, 1964.

Materials:

1. Music supplied by director. Students are financially responsible for any damaged or lost music that the director provides.
2. Students must bring their instrument and music
3. Students are also responsible for instruments, reeds, picks, cords, spare strings, etc.
4. In addition, it is recommended that to bring a tape recorder to class to tape portions of the class for home review.

Additional Resources:

1. It is strongly recommended that students either purchase or gain access to a metronome.
2. A transcriber computer program such as “The Amazing Slow Downer” (www.ronimusic.com) is a recommended, helpful tool.
3. A play-along program such as “Band-In-A-Box” (www.band-in-a-box.com) is highly recommended for this class.

Improvisation Policy:

Because improvisation is one of the most important elements of jazz, soloists will be held accountable for their improvisation, preparation and performance. The director decides on improvisation assignments. Considerations for improvisation assignments decisions include: the specific needs of the performance, the intent of the composer/arranger, the ability levels and needs of the ensemble, seniority, and the past history of dependability and positive contributions towards the ensemble. The improviser must be able to demonstrate the capacity to play all of the scales within the specific chord changes at performance and be able to improvise with satisfactory proficiency.

Course Requirements:

Students are expected to practice the material during the week. The course will include midterm and final musical evaluations based on rehearsals, concert performances, and recordings. Each student is expected to improve his or her musicianship and improvisational skills each semester. In addition, students will be evaluated by the following:

- Attendance / Class Participation: To get full credit for Attendance / Participation you should come to all classes, complete all listening and writing assignments and pay special attention to the “ensemble etiquette guidelines.” Since absence or tardiness disrupts the entire ensemble, unexcused absences or tardiness will not be tolerated and will result in a lower grade as well as being barred from performing in the concert. All students are expected to assist with equipment setup and testing. Students will be assigned these tasks on a rotation basis.
- Campus Performances: The course will include one or more on campus performances. Students are expected to participate in each of these events.
- Off-Campus Performances: The ensemble (or selected members of the ensemble) may have the opportunity to perform at off-campus venues.

Ensemble Behavior:

This is an ensemble. As such we are interdependent, not independent. There is no room for unprofessional behavior. Students need to approach rehearsals with professionalism, generosity and an eye toward problem solving and improving the group. You must request the instructor's permission to leave the room and work on material in another practice room or class. IT IS MANDATORY THAT THE INSTRUCTOR KNOWS WHERE YOU ARE AT ALL TIMES! Failure to comply with this policy may result in a failing grade.

While most artistic decisions are open to group input and often decided by the group, the instructor reserves the right to override such decisions in the interest of the ensemble or the program. Remember, all you do will reflect on you, your instructor and our program. Therefore, we will strive for professionalism in all of our endeavors.

Evaluation:

Attendance/Participation: 40%

Musical Evaluations: 40%

Professional Attitude and Rehearsal Conduct: 20%

Include a Course Outline and Calendar [can be combined in a single syllabus section]

The Course Outline and Calendar must include all of the following elements:

- A daily or (at least) weekly schedule of topics to be covered.
- Dates for exams, quizzes, or other means of assessment. (This does not mean that all evaluation of students must be in groups and at the same time. Exams and other means of assessment can be listed as "to be scheduled individually.")
- Due dates for major assignments – e.g., when is a paper due; if the topic has to be approved, when; if an outline or draft is an interim step, when it is due.
- Any required special events must be included in the outline/calendar, e.g., a lecture by a visiting speaker, a dramatic or musical performance, a field trip.
- Designation of Student Learning Objectives – by number – for each topic (see sample below).
